

THE TORTOISE AND THE HARE

The moral of this story is "Slow and steady wins the race." It emphasizes the importance of perseverance and consistency rather than relying solely on natural ability.

