

THE CROW AND THE PITCHER

The moral here is "Necessity is the mother of invention." It demonstrates how cleverness and resourcefulness can solve problems, as the crow uses stones to raise the water level in a pitcher to quench its thirst.

